Welcome to WETP.org

The National Clearinghouse for Worker Safety and Health Training is a national resource for members of the worker education and training community. It targets workers and trainers who are involved in the handling of hazardous waste or in responding to emergency releases of hazardous materials and terrorist actions.

Funded by the National Institutes for Environmental Health Sciences' (NIEHS) Worker Education and Training Program (WETP), the National Clearinghouse is the primary communications channel through which the WETP distributes technical reports, news updates, and training information to its awardees and interested members of the hazardous waste worker-training community.

Visitors to our website are also provided with easy, up-to-date links to relevant hazmat-related government news and grants information, as well as an online catalog of training curricula produced by NIEHS WETP awardees and available to the public.

The National Clearinghouse's Online Curricula Catalog contains direct access to training curricula produced by the eighteen awardees currently funded by the NIEHS Worker Education and Training Program (WETP).
