33. Effective approaches for addressing challenges in training Latino workers (WRUC – Dinorah Barton- Antonio & Ingrid Zubieta) Track: Training Approaches for Worker Empowerment

The Spanish speaking workers we train are often in vulnerable employment situations or may have different attitudes or beliefs towards health and safety, based on their experiences in their own culture or country of origin. This session will explore some of these issues, which can pose challenges for trainers, and discuss different strategies and approaches that can be used to effectively address them during training. Participants will discuss challenges and strategies in small groups.
