

Los Angeles Times
SUBSCRIBE
Try for $1 a week

CALIFORNIA

Getty fire: Housekeepers and gardeners go to work despite the flames

ADVERTISEMENT

Carmen Solano takes an Uber after finding out the neighborhood where she works has been evacuated in the Getty fire. (Brittney Mejia / Los Angeles Times)

By BRITTNEY MEJIA | STAFF WRITER OCT. 28, 2019 | 5:37 PM

Carmen Solano didn't know a brush fire had erupted Monday near the neighborhood where she worked. She simply left at 6 a.m. for

Strategies

- Street outreach at “Hot Spots”
 - Social Media
 - Mass Texting
 - Regularly survey and engage target population
 - Connect Training to Basic Needs
 - Create and Distribute Targeted Health Education to complement existing OSHA materials
 - Learn and stay updated with State and Federal policies that may impact workers’ health and safety and livelihood (i.e SB321, Cal OSHA Wildfire Smoke Standard)
-

Contact information

Nancy Zuniga, MPH

Workers' Health Program Manager

IDEPSCA-1565 W. 14th St. Los Angeles, CA 90015

nzuniga@idepsca.org
